Dear Sir.

Upon going to the Fair Grounds this afternoon I found that Capt. Horn had gone east some week or so ago quite ill and no one knew when he would return his assistant was not at the grounds to day but we will see him tomorrow. I called on Mr. Adams and was received very graciously and given the following information. Mr. Stocks I believe in Washington has to approve all vouchers for money paid and also has to send with the first vouchers which will be for traveling expense a written order to each man to go on the duty at Chicago. Each man has to make out a sworn statement of his expense, to be sent to you for approval, then to Mr. Stocks for approval and then to Mr. Adams for payment.

These vouchers have to be made in duplicate. Mr. Adams gave me a supply of them which after filling out will be mailed to you tomorrow.

There is a party of men who unload all cars and place the cases where they are wanted. but owing to the absence of Capt. Ison's assistant we could not to day locate the cars containing the fruit exhibit which will be done tomorrow and the work pushed as fast as possible.

The work all through the building appears to be in a very backward condition and will require the most strenuous efforts to get it ready for the opening

Yours Very Respectfully
Nathan S. Beckley

Dear Sir.

Upon going to the Fair Grounds this afternoon I found that Capt. Harris had gone east some week or so ago quite ill and no one knew when he would return his assistant was not at the grounds to day but we will see him tomorrow. I called on Mr. Adams and was received very graciously and given the following information. Mr. Stocks I believe in Washington has to approve all vouchers for monies paid and also has to send with the first vouchers which will be for traveling expenses a written order to each man to go on the duty at Chicago. There is a party of men who unload all cars and place the cases where they are wanted, but owing to the absence of Capt. Harris' assistant we could not to day locate the cars containing the Mint exhibit which will be done tomorrow and the work pushed as fast as possible.

The work all through the building appears to be in a very backward condition and will require the most strenuous efforts to get it ready for the opening.
